

Article #

Past Practice

Economic benefits, and all other terms and conditions of employment which were in effect on the effective date of the Agreement and which are not specifically provided for or abridged by this Agreement, will continue in effect under conditions upon which they had previously been granted throughout the life of this Agreement unless altered by mutual consent of the Employer and the Union.